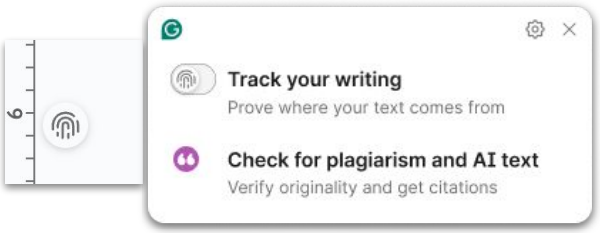
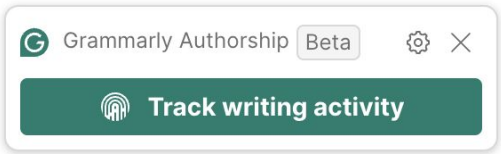
Authorship LTI for Students

Grammarly Authorship automatically categorizes all sources of text in a Google Doc or Word document, providing students with a low-lift, transparent way of showing their authentic work in the AI era. The Authorship Submission Integration in Canvas makes it easier for students to submit their Authorship reports directly in Canvas.

1 Enable Authorship in either your Word Document or Google Doc by clicking on the fingerprint icon and enabling track writing.



Google Docs



Microsoft Word

2 Once your assignment is complete, click on the Authorship fingerprint and choose "See Report" to generate your Authorship report.

3 Click "Share Report" and toggle on "Make this report visible to anyone with the link."

4 Submit your paper into your instructor's Canvas Assignment folder. Your Authorship report will be shared with your instructor.
Note: Submitting a Google Doc link requires the document to be shared with anyone with the link.
